

Insight Beauty Award 2010 SHELL EDWARDS MAKE-UP ARTISTRY

Looking perfect for your big day, special occasion or even simply just finding a look that suits you can be hard work. So, when it comes to getting that healthy glow or seeking a product that will allow you to ooze confidence, Insight would like to suggest the services of Shell Edwards...

A professional make up artist, Shell Edwards offers a versatile range of beauty treatments, all tailored to your needs and working towards an end result you'll love! With a service that includes make-up and beauty consultancies, along with pamper parties, kids face painting parties and bridal make-up, Shell can adapt to any occasion no matter how big or small!

As Insight's Beauty Award Winner 2010, Shell Edwards has been selected for her passion, expertise and professional yet friendly approach to any job at hand. Editor, Nikk Boyd, comments: "We chose Shell due to her wide range of services; it's very rare you can find a make-up artist that not only deals with bridal parties, but also provides expert advice, beauty treatments and even offers her services for photo shoots and theatre! She is an all round expert and it's no wonder she came out on top when we selected the winner for this award!"

Boasting of experience that includes successfully completing several make-up consultancy courses, Shell is trained to deliver quality beauty treatments that will leave you looking and feeling fabulous. From manicures to facials and nail extensions to eyebrow shaping and tinting, you will feel completely at ease with Shell's friendly manner and approachable nature, as well as gaining results and tips to ensure your new look is always achievable!

Tailoring her services to suit what ever you desire, Shell is happy to plan events such as pamper parties for a great girls' night in, which includes games, raffles, free treatments and eye opening hints and tips, as well as transforming a whole wedding party from bride to mother-in-law. Plus, only quality brands are used to create a flawless look and consultancies are available for events including proms, Christmas parties and much more besides!

Taking her talents to another level, Shell also offers her services at photo shoots and theatrical productions, and is happy to work to a desired overall effect.
